VERNON GOES OVER TOP ON LEGION FUND

Citizens of This City and Oklahoma Raise $1450 Quota Through Drive Under Direction of American Legion Officials.

Vernon citizens aided the war orphans of America by raising the $1450 quota set for this county. That the quota had been raised was announced this morning by Leon H. Brown, chairman of the local drive, although no definite tabulations have been made. When the workers reported last night, they were only $100 short of the quota, and incomplete tabulations made at noon showed that the quota had been raised.

Chairman Brown thanked the citizens of Vernon in behalf of the American Legion as follows:

"Our quota of $1450 has been raised. We want to thank all those who contributed so willingly to this fund, the earnings of which will care for the disabled and for orphans of war veterans for all time. The Legion did not beg a single contribution; it simply explained the proposition and gave every one an opportunity to contribute in any amount he or she desired. That was all that was necessary, once the people understood. I am confident that the quota would have been raised easily the first day had all our workers been able to see those in their respective territories. Fully one-third of the quota came to us unsolicited."

Mr. Brown stated that if there are any who were not seen by the workers and who wish to contribute they may still do so by mailing check to him, E. M. Haney or R. B. Gibson.

"In raising this fund," said Mr. Brown, in explaining the American Legion's part, "the Legion has neither asked nor received anything for itself. It has simply volunteered its services, and that of its 11,000 posts, and its million members and workers in showing the American people the needs of the situation, in collecting the trust fund, and in seeing that it is properly administered through sympathetic hands, all to the end that the last years of disabled soldiers may be made as comfortable and cheerful as possible, and that the veteran's orphan be provided the same home, care and education as other American children. This is a duty of the entire American public, and the American Legion would have assumed the obligation of fostering the care of those who suffered through the patriotism of themselves or their fathers, and raising the trust fund, had it required fifty million instead of the five million dollars."

"The Legion was unashamed and proud to ask the aid of the people of Vernon and Wilbarger County in this campaign; and knew they would

Local Man's Plan Meets With Favor Over West Texas

R. M. Fielder, secretary of the local chamber of commerce, seems to have started something when he suggested that a West Texas interscholastic league be started, with West Texas Technological College in charge. The suggestion has met with approval in a number of cities, and if the officials of the state interscholastic league put the one year ruling into effect, it is practically certain that the West Texas league will be organized.

A recent announcement from Lubbock states that the athletic officials at the Technological College are willing to organize a new league. Local fans, considering the best interests of the Lions, favor the organization of a new league.

No new developments in regard to one year ruling have been reported from Austin recently. It is not likely that the ruling will be enforced this year, should it be passed.

Contestants who have registered must measure the land at an early date, according to local officials of the contest. The contestant must secure two farmers living in his community and one business man living in his trade center to help him measure the land.

Farmers must keep accurate records of their five acres, as well as records of all other crops on his land and must turn them in to the officials of the contest before the end of the year, according to the rules. Special crop record books may be obtained at the office of the county agent.

BAPTIST MEET AT FAIR PARK CLOSING SUNDAY

Convention This Year Has Record Attendance From Several States—Anson Chosen as Next Meeting Place for Next Year.

One of the largest conventions ever held by the Primitive Baptist Association closed at Fair Park Sunday, after being in session since Thursday. The meeting was one of the most successful ever held as well as the largest, according to local members of the association. About three hundred people from various points within three hundred miles of Vernon attended, and a large number came from out of the state.

Anson was chosen as the place for the convention next year which will open on July 30. A Mr. Hall of that city was elected secretary during this convention. Elder R. V. Sargent of Abilene was re-elected moderator of the district.

Eleven ordained ministers were present at the meeting here and all delivered sermons. They spoke as follows: Friday morning, Elder D. B. Koen of Wellington; Friday afternoon, Elder Martin Foshee, Erick, Okla., and Elder J. S. Woods, Palmetto, Colo.; Friday evening, Elder J. H. Stanley, Eastern, Okla., and Elder Henry Cash, Charlie; Saturday morning, Elder Benton Allen, Oklahoma City, Okla., and Elder H. C. Curington, Charlie; Saturday afternoon, Elder A. B. Hughes, Vernon, and Elder F. W. Denny, Knox City; Saturday evening, Elder R. V. Sargent, Abilene; Sunday morning, Elder J. B. Denton, Cone.

During the convention, five additions were made to the local church, and regular meeting dates were set for the fourth Sunday and Saturday before.

Local members of the association commented upon the large number of families which attended the meeting this year. Practically all the representatives came in cars and brought their families. Fair Park was literally dotted with tents. Meals were prepared and served in the park, and, according to comment, Vernon maintained the reputation established by the association for serving good feasts at the conventions.

Farmers Are Now Optimistic About This Year's Crop

A general spirit of optimism is prevalent throughout the county following the good rains of last week. Farmers are hurriedly plowing up feed crops that perished during the dry weather and are planting the land in late grain crops. A tour of the county shows that in no section has cotton been hurt to any great extent.

Everywhere it has taken on a new growth, has quit blooming in the top and is looking very promising. Estimates are growing daily. Those who are profuse in expressing their belief that this year's cotton crop will equal that of last year may be found on most any corner, while the most conservative seldom estimate the total yield as less than 55,000 bales. With the increased acreage over the county, it seems entirely possible that last year's crop will be equalled.

A visit to a number of homes in various parts of the county shows that the farmers have renewed confidence in this year's cotton crop. The most pessimistic farmers admit they will "make pretty good this year," and that the rain "helped some." However, as a rule, the farmers are enthusiastic as to the rain, and are quick to express the belief that the cotton crop will be good this year.

CHARLES LUCIUS LANE BURIED IN EAST VIEW

Charles Lucius, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Lane of Lexington street was buried yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock in East View cemetery.

Dr. E. E. Lyon, pastor of the first Baptist church held the services at the grave. The little one was born Saturday and the young parents were rejoicing over the arrival of the first born but its hold on life was too feeble and yesterday about noon, the baby's spirit took flight, quietly passing from earthly scenes to life everlasting.

Emulates Red Grange

If Stewart Harvey, (above) Yale sophomore, delivered the ice to the front door of homes in the fashionable Lake Forest district of Chicago, it would be all right because he is the son of Byron S. Harvey, director of the Santa Fe Railroad. However, Harvey carries the ice to rear doors as a training stunt for a try at the Yale Varsity next year.

C. C. DIRECTORS OPEN SOCIAL VOTE FOR FAIR CENTER HERE

OFFICIALS MOVE TO HOLD COUNTY FAIR AS USUAL—COMMITTEE APPOINTED

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce last night, it was decided to foster the holding of a county fair at Vernon some time this fall, and a committee was appointed to investigate and make preparations for the affair. R. B. Gibson, J. H. Pendleton and Dee Norwood were placed on the committee.

A fair has been held in Vernon consecutively for fourteen years under the direction of the Wilbarger County Fair Association, but after last year's fair the board of directors of the association announced that the association would not hold another fair.

When interviewed this morning, R. M. Fielder expressed confidence that the fair would be held this year as usual. The committee is to begin work immediately, and it is expected that a favorable report will be made at the next meeting of the directors.

At the meeting the directors adopted the clean-up suggestions of the business council, and an additional committee was appointed to formulate plans for the campaign, and to set definite dates for the drive. Those appointed on this committee are: Charles Umsted, R. W. Abbott, R. B. Sherrill.

The committee appointed to investigate in regard to making changes so that the schedule of the Frisco and Denver will better conform in Vernon made its report last night, and it suggested that efforts be made to have the Frisco run the train on to Vernon that is now stopping at Lawton, as it could leave and arrive here at convenient times.

HARROLD GIRL WINS HONORS AT STATE MEET

Miss Ruth Jackson and Miss Cecil Koontz, Wilbarger Representatives, Win Prizes at Contest Between 2600 Delegates From All Texas.

That Wilbarger County club girls can write as well as sew is evidenced by the fact that two of the local representatives took honors at the farmers' short course which was held at A. M. College last week. Miss Ruth Jackson of Harrold took first honors with her theme in the school dress division. Miss Cecil Koontz took second place with her theme in the graduation dress division.

Miss Koontz is becoming an habitual prize winner, having taken honors last year by winning third prize with an essay on "The well dressed club girl." The local girls this year entered the dress contests as well as the theme tests, but failed to take honors.

The farmers' short course this year exceeded all former events of this sort in attendance and amount of work covered. More than 2600 registered at the college during the course from more than 100 counties. The Wilbarger girls won over this large number of contestants.

Although failing to win a prize this year, P. D. Chaney, local county agent, won honorable mention for his work in the stock judging contests. This is the third time to make a creditable showing at the state contest.

Wilbarger county was represented by Ruth Jackson of Elliot, Cecil Koontz of East Vernon, Edwin Smith of Vernon, Fay Lemons of Elliot, Mrs. Will Martin of the Southwest Community Club, Mrs. George Beavers of Fargo, County Agents Chaney, Miss Emma Gunter, home demonstration agent.

All local representatives report an enjoyable time. The 2600 contestants were given instructive training by experts in all phases of farm life, and several forms of amusement were furnished by the college, including moving picture shows, and excursions.

Operations In Local Fields Pause For Rains During the Past Week; Several to Spud Soon

Operations in the local fields have been curtailed by the recent rains, but a number of companies are preparing to spud following the recent downpour. A recent survey of the field shows that almost as many new wells were started during the past month as has been started during any month of this year. Twenty-one wells were spudded during July, the records of May and March exceed the record of July with 24 and 34 wells started, respectively.

Atlantic Oil Producing company made the only strike of the week-end by picking up a sandy lime in No. 5 Zippert at 2360 feet in section 80, block 14. The company is setting casing to make a test. No. 5 made a small producer at the 1300-foot level.

Tidal Oil company placed the well in section 47, block 4, on the pump and it pumped 75 barrels in the first twenty hours. The pump was then shut down for nineteen hours, and after resuming pumping, the well pumped five barrels an hour.

Smith's semi-wildcat in section 35, block 2, is pumping at the rate of 150 barrels daily. It pumped 66 barrels in the first twelve hours on the pump.

Atlantic Oil and Production company announce the intention of starting two new wells, but no locations have been made yet.

Mrs. Vivian Peers was alleged to have been killed by Rudolph Duse, 20-year-old clerk, with whom she was said to have been living, when, it was reported, she left him for another man.

TODAY'S RAIN IS THIRD OF INCH

PRECIPITATION IS GENERAL OVER COUNTY, ACCORDING TO REPORTS TO RECORD.

A slow rain of a third of an inch fell here this morning, according to the measurement in the official rain gauge, and reports from over the county are to the effect that the fall was general. Today's precipitation brings the total rainfall for the past week up to more than three inches in Vernon, with much heavier rains reported in several other sections of the county.

Today's rain puts an excellent season in the ground for late feed and cotton crops. Cotton has taken on new growth and fruiting rapidly since last week's rains. Many farmers are saying now that their crops will equal last year's bumper yield. Much late feed is being planted to overcome the shortage of forage, due to the loss of the early feed crops, and if present favorable conditions continue Wilbarger County ought to have another prosperous year.

VERNON TO BE GIVEN NEW 75 TON ICE PLANT

Middle West Utilities Company Will Make Addition Costing $150,000 to New Plant on Cumberland Street—High Officials Visit Vernon.

An addition costing approximately $150,000 will be made to the ice plant on Cumberland street by the Middle West Utilities Company, according to an announcement made this morning by R. H. Smith, local manager. When completed, the new plant will produce seventy-five tons of ice every twenty-four hours, exceeding the present capacity of the plant by sixty tons.

Plans for the new building include six cold-storage rooms that will be operated for the public, according to the manager. The completed building will cover practically all of the company's property at the corner of Cumberland and Maiden streets.

It is planned to shut down the plant on Cumberland street, and begin construction on the addition about September 15. Mr. Smith states. The present plant has been in operation only a week, and during that time it has been found that its output is totally inadequate to supply the local demand, according to the management. It is planned to send the machinery of this plant to the company's plant at Chillicothe. Upon completion of the new plant, it is expected to take care of the local demand for ice without the aid of the plant on North Main. It is stated.

The Middle West Utilities company evidently believes in Vernon, as the costly addition is planned shortly after the entrance of the company into the local ice and power field. The company purchased the stock of the Vernon Electric and Ice company about a month ago.

Several high officials of the company visited Vernon about two weeks ago, an announced themselves as pleased with the future of the plant here.

Car Hits Parked Truck Injuring Three Occupants

Miss Aileen Arnold, daughter of Mrs. H. S. Arnold, living near Vernon, was painfully injured Friday night when the car in which she, her mother, and brother, Jess, were riding struck a truck near the corner of Mesquite and Wilbarger streets. Miss Arnold received a deep cut on the neck. She was carried to a local hospital for treatment, and was discharged the following day. The other occupants of the car were only slightly bruised.

The truck which the car struck was parked at the curb, and no one was near it. A passing car forced the Arnold car into it. The injuries were caused from a broken windshield.

COURT HOUSE LAWN TO HAVE NEW BAND STAND

Bids are being received for the erection of a new band stand on the lawn of the court house, according to R. M. Fielder, secretary of the local Chamber of Commerce. The new structure is to be eighteen feet square, and it is thought that it will accommodate the band on any occasion.

The old stand has been too small for some time and has become dangerous, according to a recent statement of authorities. The new stand is to be erected by donations and by the Chamber of Commerce.

"The Man in Blue" and "Oh Doctor" Here This Week

Herbert Rawlinson is back in his blue uniform again and, with Madge Bellamy as his co-star, is duplicating in "The Man in Blue" Universal-Jewell to be shown at the Pictorium, Thursday and Friday, the big hit he made in "Jack O' Clubs."

However, there is the similarity of the two pictures. This later starring vehicles is the drama of love and intrigue and heroism surrounding the romance of an Irish policeman working a beat in the Italian quarter of New York City, and a little Italian flower girl, who feels that the Signor Cop represents everything great in America.

The fact that her uncle thinks otherwise has little effect on the girl. But the machinations of those who work in the dark and against the law of the land of their adoption bring grief to the girl, and to the stalwart arm of the law. In fact the opposition of the uncle is augmented by the knowledge that the big padrone of the quarter's underworld desires the girl for his own wife and he almost gets her.

Reginald Denny, whose work in "Sporting Youth," "The Reckless Age," "The Aynsly Brute" and other Universal successes has established him on a high plane, in the opinion of the motion picture fans, stars in "Oh, Doctor!" the Universal now showing for the last time at the Pictorium.

Screen version of The Saturday Evening Post serial of the same name written by Harry Leon Wilson "Oh, Doctor!" is a delightful combination of comedy, humor, satire and romance, telling the story of a hypochondriac, who finally, because of his love for his beautiful nurse, becomes transformed into a young man of such decided action that the hazards he engages in become a source of consternation to those who have his interest at heart. Denny takes the part of the young hypochondriac, Rufus Billups, Jr., who worries about the state of his health to the exclusion of every other interest of life.

The nurse is played by Mary Astor, and others who are in the cast are Otis Harlan, William Mong, Tom Ricketts, Lucille Ward, Mike Donlin, Clarence Geldert, Blanche Payson, George Kuwa, Martha Mattox and Helen Lynch.

Harry Pollard directed Denny in "Sporting Youth" and "The Reckless Age," directed "Oh, Doctor!" in the latter sequence of which Denny is afforded opportunity to participate in some thrilling automobile rides, and wrecks, and also in some spectacular motorcycle stunts.

Constance Here as "Flapper-Vamp" August 10 and 11

Girls are asked to take warning from Constance Talmadge's experiences in her latest First National comedy, "Learning to Love."

Constance, as a flapper-vamp, makes love to all the men she meets and is somewhat surprised when she finds herself with five fiancés and a husband.

"Learning to Love" is Constance's first comedy since she made "Her Night of Romance." It introduces her for the first time as a flapper-vamp, Hollywood's latest screen innovation in type portrayals.

Antonio Moreno is Constance's leading man. Moreno worked in pictures with Constance and Norma Talmadge many times in the days when both famous sisters were at Vitaphone.

Others in the cast are Emily Fitzroy, Johnny Harron, Ray Hall, Al Goulding, Wallace MacDonald, Edythe Chapman, Byron Munson and Edgar Norton. Harron, who is a brother of the late Robert Harron, was last seen with Constance in "Dulcy."

"Learning to Love" is a Joseph M. Schenck production to be presented by First National at the Vernon Theater next Monday and Tuesday. Sidney Franklin directed.

PASTORS HONOR BRYAN MEMORY

COMMONER'S LIFE IS SUB- JECT OF SERMONS BY LO- CAL MINISTERS.

"If, before the death of the great commoner, I had been asked to name the greatest man in America, I would have immediately replied, 'William Jennings Bryan,'" said Dr. E. L. Moore, speaking from the pulpit of the local Presbyterian church Sunday morning. Several of the ministers of the city honored the memory of the great commoner by centering their services about him.

"It is not often," continued the pastor, "given to one man to fill three realms of human activity in a full and complete way, but it was given to Mr. Bryan. He was a citizen, a statesman, and a Christian."

"He was not a scholar. Unlike his illustrious colleagues, Roosevelt and Wilson, he knew nothing of higher education, but like his predecessor, Lincoln, he was blessed with a remarkable store of common sense. He studied men rather than books. Ideas and ideals rather than things appealed to him.

He was a close student of the times, the issues, and the men of his day, and from these he formulated his political creed, and moulded his conception of what a true American citizen ought to be. He was a model citizen because he had vision, because he was loyal to righteous principles and American ideals, because he was sincere. He gave to his age a new ideal of citizenship. He has defined patriotism not in the language of war, but in terms of peaceful service. He found the measure of national greatness not in material grandeur, but in the sublime manifestation of spiritual wealth. This he preached from every stump, practiced in every election.

"As a statesman, Mr. Bryan was broad and sagacious in his vision, skilled in the art of government, distinguished in ability, creative in mind. Like Washington and Wilson, he lived in advance of his age.

He was a pioneer in many wise and wholesome issues brought before the people. He was absolutely unafraid to champion any cause he believed to be right.

"He was not always right, he was not always understood.

"As a Christian, his life is a model. The last and crowning act of his great life was a strong defense of the work of God and the principles of faith."

The minister quoted the following from the Bible as best befitting the circumstances of the commoner's death:

"And the King said unto his servants, know ye not that there is a prince and a great man fallen this day in Israel? And I am this day weak, the anointed King."

Rev. C. A. Bickley, pastor of the local Methodist church spoke highly of the great commoner to a large and attentive audience.

"In the death of William Jennings Bryan," he said, "America has lost a prince. For almost a third of a century Bryan has had a wonderful influence in America. He was great as a citizen, statesman, orator and writer, but he towers highest and his life throws its light farthest as a Christian. He has fallen at a time when we seem to greatly need him, but God doeth all things well. He is dead but will continue to speak."

"As a statesman, he always stood for the cause of the common people. He stamped the 1896 Democratic Convention with his famous saying, 'You shall not press down upon the brow of labor this crown of thorns. You shall not crucify mankind upon the cross of gold.'"

"Mr. Bryan was an apostle of peace. He felt that war was against the teaching of the 'Prince of Peace.' He advocated world disarmament. In 1913 he drafted a form of peace treaty between the United States and foreign nations, by which all disputes were to be submitted to an impartial investigating commission for a year before hostilities could begin. Thirty foreign nations representing three-fourths of the population of the earth became signatories to the document."

"He was an ardent prohibitionist. While in the president's cabinet he started Washington by refusing to serve anything while entertaining stronger than grape juice. Mr. Shepherd, who drafted the Eighteenth Amendment, gave to Mr. Bryan, more than any other one person, credit for its passage."

"His defense of the Bible is too well known for me to do more than refresh your memories. He was relentless in his fight on Modernism and Darwinian evolution. He felt that the perpetuity of our nation depended upon Christianity and that the life of Christianity rested upon the Bible. He thrilled the world by saying that he was more interested in 'Rock of Ages' than in the age

May Go Free

GEORGE WALTON

George Walton, twenty-three, of Canton, Ohio, surrendered to police, they say, and confessed to the murder of Guy Shaw, alleged black-masser of roadside betting parties. County officials said that Walton probably would not be prosecuted if he aided authorities in running down other alleged members of a gang said to have been operating "the blackmail schemes."

The pastor then compared his life to that of many great men of the Bible and the modern world.

"Like Abraham he was a friend of God," the speaker continued. "Like Enoch, he walked with God. Like Elijah, he challenged to combat the enemies of Christianity. Like John he was an apostle of love, and like Paul, he fought bravely the battles of the right till the last and could say, 'I have fought a good fight, I have kept the faith,' and was ready to receive the crown of righteousness."

"He is gone. May his great life as a Christian continue to speak to the world. I would say with one on another occasion: 'I stood on a faraway shore and saw a stately column of Parian Marble rise until it touched the skies. In rapture and admiration I beheld it. Then suddenly it was rudely broken in twain, and the heart of the dreamer was sad. But I looked again, and I saw the clouds had lowered and obscured the upper portion, and the column was unbroken still. It is so with the commoner's life. It is not broken. Death has only veiled its loftier heights.'"

P. L. Haynes and J. E. Haynes of Lockert visited friends at Electric Sunday.

Mrs. H. B. Cox has returned from a visit with relatives in Mississippi and Louisiana.

Weak in Back and Sides

"Before the birth of my little girl," says Mrs. Lena Stancil, of R. F. D. 2, Matthews, Mo., "I was so weak in my back and sides I could not go about. I was too weak to stand up or do any work. I felt like my back was coming in two. I lost weight. I didn't eat anything much and was so restless I couldn't sleep nights. My mother used to take so I sent to get it. I improved after my first bottle. Cardui is certainly a great help for nervousness and weak back. I took six bottles of Cardui and by then I was well and strong, just did fine from then on. Cardui helped me so much."

Thousands of weak, suffering women have taken Cardui, knowing that it had helped their mothers or their friends, and soon gained strength and got rid of their pains.

Cardui should do you a lot of good.

EVIDENCES OF LEGISLATIVE HASTE.

Two instances have recently come to light where the necessity for haste in passing legislation, due to the limit of sixty days placed on the regular session of the Legislature by the constitution, or rather limiting the period of the $5 a day compensation, has cost rather dearly. One was the discovery that two elections must be held on successive days to act on constitutional amendments. Of course, we know it was not the intention to have two elections on successive days, but the error crept in and the Attorney General has no way of authorizing a change.

Another oversight made by the solons in their haste to transact their business within the sixty-day regular session was an error in the water conservation act which requires a permit from the State Board of Water Engineers before any kind of a tank for impounding storm water can be constructed. There was a discrepancy between the caption and the remainder of the bill, which the Attorney General ruled required permit to construct any size tank.

Of course, the Legislature had no intention of requiring a permit for a farmer to build a dam across a ravine on his farm, and if the members had been given ample time to study the bill no such provision would have been allowed to pass, just as proper consideration would have eliminated the provision of two elections on two successive days when one election was sufficient.

The wonder is not that so many bills are bungled. The real wonder is that so few errors are made. It is impossible for legislators to consider in detail the mass of legislation submitted during sixty days. It is a physical impossibility and we will continue to have bungled laws until we give legislators decent pay and allow them sufficient time to transact their business in an orderly manner.

Every lawmaker who goes to Austin does so at a financial sacrifice, if he is honest, and most of them are honest, and no one can blame him for rushing through with the business as soon as possible in order that he can get back home to look after his own interests. What we ought to do is to amend the constitution so as to provide a respectable annual salary for legislators and do away with the limits on the length of regular sessions. This would give ample time for thorough consideration of legislation. The error in the law providing for the extra election this year will cost the taxpayers enough extra money to go a long way toward paying decent compensation to legislators. All these errors, most of which are due to haste in passing laws, cost the taxpayers, and if the people can ever get the idea that these blunders cost them money it ought not to be difficult to get a change in the constitution.

SHOOTING PROHIBITION INTO EFFECT.

The other day an alleged bootlegger was slain by prohibition enforcement officers in New Jersey. The newspaper accounts of the incident say that two enforcement officers came down from Washington to Havre De Grace, that being the name of the town where the tragedy occurred, put up at a hotel and told the suspected man that they wanted to buy some liquor. He complied with their request, delivered the liquor, received his pay and then the officers disclosed their identity. The man asked and received permission to telephone his wife and then made a dash for freedom.

The officers gave chase, the newspaper account runs, and fired a number of shots in a crowded street of the business district, finally bringing him down mortally wounded. The officer who is alleged to have fired the fatal shot was arrested and held on a charge of murder.

Most good citizens will applaud any proper effort to enforce the prohibition laws, but it would be difficult for any straight-thinking person to excuse the slaying of this man, if the newspaper accounts of the affair are even approximately correct. In the first place the method selected to apprehend the man in the act of selling liquor was questionable. It is hard to excuse officers who suggest a violation of the law in order to make an arrest. In the next place there was no justification for shooting down a man under such circumstances. He had committed no crime which would warrant an officer in taking his life.

Such practices will not strengthen sentiment for enforcement of the prohibition laws and in the long run enforcement must depend upon public sentiment, quite as much as the vigilance of officers. In fact, if prohibition ever becomes an actuality it must come through public sentiment, and it is going to be hard to crystallize public sentiment by shooting down suspects or as long as it is possible for doctors and druggists to set the law at naught by dispensing prescription liquor which in reality is the great majority of cases is for beverage purposes.

DENTON MEETS GUNDY TONIGHT

CLIFF CASTLEBERRY TAKES ON YOUNG MURDOCK IN SEMI-FINAL BOUTS.

Nick Gundy of Oklahoma City and Jack Denton of Tahoka are the two lads who will sling the padded mitts in the ten-round feature event at the Vernon open air arena at the corner of Texas and Mesquite streets tonight. Both boxers have fought here before, and each has won the favor of local fans.

Gundy stepped ten exceedingly fast rounds with Wildat Monte here about two months ago, losing the referee's decision by a shade. In the ten rounds, Denton showed that he was a glutton for punishment and a spendthrift at handing it out. He displayed a willingness to mix it that held the fans in his favor despite the decision which went against him.

Denton's fight with Kid Rich is not yet off the tongues of fans. That fight was indicative of Denton's ability. When a boxer can stand up to one who ought-weighs him as much as Rich does Denton, it cannot be doubted that he would be a good mixer when fighting one nearer his size.

Although Denton used running tactics in his bout with Rich, it is not likely that he will employ the same method in his bout tonight, as he matched with a boxer near his weight. The Tahoka lad has a reputation for mixing it.

Young Murdock of Wichita Falls stands a good chance of getting the small end of a decision in a six-round semi-final with Cliff Castleberry, local leather pusher. Although Castlebury has not donned the mitts for several weeks, he reports that he is in good condition, and if he is, the Wichita Falls boxer is likely to go down as did one of his fellow citizens of the coyote city last week. At last fans are given the assurance that Rabbit Nye will fight again. The local favorite emphatically announces that he will enter the ring again tonight. His opponent has not been announced yet. Other good preliminaries are promised by the local promoter.

Chevrolet Repair Service

Our shop is completely equipped with the standard equipment for Chevrolet service. You will find the same machinery and tools for testing the accuracy of any repair job that you will find in the factory. The main bearings, timing gears, connecting rod bearings and all parts are tested by the same machinery and put under the same rigid test as a new motor before it leaves the factory. Our standard equipment gives us a machine and a tool for every job which eliminates the possibility of guess as to its accuracy.

EXPERT MECHANICS
Two of our shop men leave for the factory to study Chevrolet construction and service.

We are anxious to give Chevrolet owners the proper service and by installing standard machinery and sending two of our mechanics to the factory enables us to give our customers the same standard of efficiency that they would get were they to take their Chevrolet to the factory for the repair.

FLAT RATE SERVICE CHARGE

The proper training of our mechanics and the installation of standard equipment also enables us to reduce the cost of repair service for our customers. Each job is done on a flat rate charge. You know before the work is done, just what it will cost you. No lost time charged on your bill.

We ask that you visit our service shop and allow us the opportunity to show you this modern machinery and explain the many advantages over the old time hammer, chisel and guess work methods. If you are driving a Chevrolet see our equipment before you allow a chisel or hammer put on your car.

Church of Christ Revival Drawing Enormous Crowds

Wilbarger County Court Filings

Large crowds are attending the revival meeting being held by the Church of Christ, and success is attending the efforts of the evangelist. Five candidates for baptism have been received. The crowds are filling the tabernacle each night at the corner of Marshall and Deaf Smith streets.

Elder W. D. Bills of San Antonio, who is conducting the services, is still the evangelist that he was on the occasions of his other two visits here, according to members of the local church who have heard him each time. Many have expressed their pleasure at the way in which he is conducting the meeting this year.

Ira Y. Rice of Norman, Okla., is getting the local choir in shape, and is furnishing a very good musical service.

The meeting is expected to continue until August 10.

VERNON GOES OVER TOP ON LEGION FUND

Citizens of This City and Oklahoma Raise $1450 Quota Through Drive Under Direction of American Legion Officials.

Vernon citizens aided the war orphans of America by raising the $1450 quota set for this county. That the quota had been raised was announced this morning by Leon H. Brown, chairman of the local drive, although no definite tabulations have been made. When the workers reported last night, they were only $100 short of the quota, and incomplete tabulations made at noon showed that the quota had been raised.

Chairman Brown thanked the citizens of Vernon in behalf of the American Legion as follows:

"Our quota of $1450 has been raised. We want to thank all those who contributed so willingly to this fund, the earnings of which will care for the disabled and for orphans of war veterans for all time. The Legion did not beg a single contribution; it simply explained the proposition and gave every one an opportunity to contribute in any amount he or she desired. That was all that was necessary, once the people understood. I am confident that the quota would have been raised easily the first day had all our workers been able to see those in their respective territories. Fully one-third of the quota came to us unsolicited."

Mr. Brown states that if there are any who were not seen by the workers and who wish to contribute, they may still do so by mailing check to him, E. M. Haney or R. B. Gibson.

"In raising this fund," said Mr. Brown, in explaining the American Legion's part, "the Legion has neither asked nor received anything for itself. It has simply volunteered its services, and that of its 11,000 posts, and its million members and workers in showing the American people the needs of the situation, in collecting the trust fund, and in seeing that it is properly administered through sympathetic hands, all to the end that the last years of disabled soldiers may be made as comfortable and cheerful as possible, and that the veteran's orphan be provided the same home, care and education as other American children. This is a duty of the entire American public, and the American Legion would have assumed the obligation of fostering the care of those who suffered through the patriotism of themselves or their fathers, and raising the trust fund, had it required fifty million instead of the five million dollars."

"The Legion was unashamed and proud to ask the aid of the people of Vernon and Wilbarger County in this campaign, and knew they would

MANY FARMERS ENTER CONTEST

RECORDS SHOW 39 ENTERED FROM WILBARGER AT CLOSING DATE.

Thirty-nine farmers of Wilbarger county entered the "More Cotton on Fewer Acres" contest for this year, according to totals made on August 1, the last day on which contestants were allowed to enter the contest. About fifteen farmers of the county entered the contest during July, in spite of the dry weather. Farmers living near Vernon who have entered the contest are: J. L. Jones, C. J. Beeson, A. M. Erhart, T. J. Milner, Calvin Littleton, G. G. Ashley, W. M. McCaleb, James L. Smith, C. N. Hobson, C. O. Hobson, L. C. Henry, F. H. Littleton, R. D. Hart, Mrs. F. H. Littleton, Olin Roberts.

Four farmers entered from the farming territory around Oklaunion, namely: M. A. Mills, T. E. Burfield, Compton Rainwater, E. C. Williams.

Tobert reported three contestants, including A. A. Lampe, A. B. Skipworth, Byron Phillips.

The following entered from Harrold: T. H. Lamli, H. W. Jackson, G. G. Ashley, M. O. Turner, C. B. Mason, J. M. Pate, T. M. McClelland, B. F. Pate, F. M. Pate, H. S. Marvin, George P. Trisler, Charles Burfield.

C. D. Haney is the only entrant from Thalia.

Chillicothe reported three Wilbarger county farmers as entering there. They are: Arthur Short, Burl Cox, Jake Cox.

Contestants who have registered must measure the land at an early date, according to local officials of the contest. The contestant must secure two farmers living in his community and one business man living in his trade center to help him measure the land.

Farmers must keep accurate records of their five acres, as well as records of all other crops on his land and must turn them in to the officials of the contest before the end of the year, according to the rules. Special crop record books may be obtained at the office of the county agent.

After the cotton is ginned, the rules require that each farmer send samples, taken from each side of the bale, to officials of the contest along with a statement of the price received staple and character of cotton.

START WORK SOON ON ELECTRIC HIGH LINE

Materials are on hand and just as soon as weather conditions will permit, work will be started on the high line to be constructed from Vernon to Oklaunion and Harrold by the Vernon Electric and Ice Company.

It is planned by the Company to have the lines in operation ready to begin service to these two towns this fall.

BAPTIST MEET AT FAIR PARK CLOSING SUNDAY

Convention This Year Has Record Attendance From Several States—Anson Chosen as Next Meeting Place for Next Year.

One of the largest conventions ever held by the Primitive Baptist Association closed at Fair Park Sunday, after being in session since Thursday. The meeting was one of the most successful ever held as well as the largest, according to local members of the association. About three hundred people from various points within three hundred miles of Vernon attended, and a large number came from out of the state.

Anson was chosen as the place for the convention next year which will open on July 30. A Mr. Hall of that city was elected secretary during this convention. Elder R. V. Sarrels of Abilene was re-elected moderator of the district.

Eleven ordained ministers were present at the meeting here and all delivered sermons. They spoke as follows: Friday morning, Elder D. B. Koen of Wellington; Friday afternoon, Elder Martin Foshee, Erick, Okla., and Elder J. S. Woods, Palmetto, Colo.; Friday evening, Elder J. H. Stanley, Eastern, Okla., and Elder Henry Cash, Charlie; Saturday morning, Elder Benton Allen, Oklahoma City, Okla., and Elder H. C. Curington, Charlie; Saturday afternoon, Elder A. B. Hughes, Vernon, and Elder F. W. Denny, Knox City; Saturday evening, Elder R. V. Sarrels, Abilene; Sunday morning, Elder J. B. Denton, Cone.

During the convention, five additions were made to the local church, and regular meeting dates were set for the fourth Sunday and Saturday before.

Local members of the association commented upon the large number of families which attended the meeting this year. Practically all the representatives came in cars and brought their families. Fair Park was literally dotted with tents. Meals were prepared and served in the park, and, according to comment, Vernon maintained the reputation established by the association for serving good feasts at the conventions.

Farmers Are Now Optimistic About This Year's Crop

A general spirit of optimism is prevalent throughout the county following the good rains of last week. Farmers are hurriedly plowing up feed crops that perished during the dry weather and are planting the land in late grain crops. A tour of the county shows that in no section has cotton been hurt to any great extent.

Everywhere it has taken on a new growth, has quit blooming in the top and is looking very promising. Estimates are growing daily. Those who are profuse in expressing their belief that this year's cotton crop will equal that of last may be found on most any corner, while the most conservative seldom estimate the total yield as less than 55,000 bales. With the increased acreage over the county, it seems entirely possible that last year's crop will be equalled.

A visit to a number of homes in various parts of the county shows that the farmers have renewed confidence in this year's cotton crop. The most pessimistic farmers admit they will "make pretty good this year," and that the rain "helped some." However, as a rule, the farmers are enthusiastic as to the rain, and are quick to express the belief that the cotton crop will be good this year.

CHARLES LUCIUS LANE BURIED IN EAST VIEW

Charles Lucius, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Lane of Lexington street was buried yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock in East View cemetery.

Dr. E. F. Lyon, pastor of the first Baptist church held the services at the grave. The little one was born Saturday and the young parents were rejoicing over the arrival of the first born but its hold on life was too feeble and yesterday about noon, the baby's spirit took flight, quietly passing from earthly scenes to life everlasting.

C. C. DIRECTORS OPEN SOCIAL VOTE FOR FAIR CENTER HERE

OFFICIALS MOVE TO HOLD COUNTY FAIR AS USUAL—COMMITTEE APPOINTED

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce last night, it was decided to foster the holding of a county fair at Vernon some time this fall, and a committee was appointed to investigate and make preparations for the affair. R. B. Gibson, J. H. Pendleton and Dee Norwood were placed on the committee.

A fair has been held in Vernon consecutively for fourteen years under the direction of the Wilbarger County Fair Association, but after last year's fair the board of directors of the association announced that the association would not hold another fair.

When interviewed this morning, R. M. Fielder expressed confidence that the fair would be held this year as usual. The committee is to begin work immediately, and it is expected that a favorable report will be made at the next meeting of the directors.

At the meeting the directors adopted the clean-up suggestions of the business council, and an additional committee was appointed to formulate plans for the campaign, and to set definite dates for the drive. Those appointed on this committee are: Charles Umsted, R. W. Abbott, R. B. Sherrill.

The committee appointed to investigate in regard to making changes so that the schedule of the Frisco and Denver will better conform in Vernon made its report last night, and it suggested that efforts be made to have the Frisco run the train on to Vernon that is now stopping at Lawton, as it could leave and arrive here at convenient times.

VERNON MAN PURCHASES QUANAH ELECTRIC SHOP

Olen Turner, owner of the Turner Electric Company of Vernon bought the Quanah Electric Company at Quanah and took charge Saturday. Ed Frierson, local man, is in charge of the new business and Miss Alice Starr is bookkeeper. The name has been changed to the Turner Electric Company. The head office will be maintained here with Mr. Turner in charge, who will also do the buying for the new concern. Mr. Turner has been very successful in business here and the expansion of business is but another step in a successful enterprise.

Mrs. S. W. Bailey and daughter, Miss Anna, accompanied by Mrs. Georgia Roberts of Dallas, left yesterday for Denver, Colorado. They will be gone about two weeks.

HARROLD GIRL WINS HONORS AT STATE MEET

Miss Ruth Jackson and Miss Cecil Koontz, Wilbarger Representatives, Win Prizes at Contest Between 2600 Delegates From All Texas.

That Wilbarger County club girls can write as well as sew is evidenced by the fact that two of the local representatives took honors at the farmers' short course which was held at A. M. College last week. Miss Ruth Jackson of Harrold took first honors with her theme in the school dress division. Miss Cecil Koontz took second place with her theme in the graduation dress division.

Miss Koontz is becoming a habitual prize winner, having taken honors last year by winning third prize with an essay on "The well dressed club girl." The local girls this year entered the dress contests as well as the theme tests, but failed to take honors.

The farmers' short course this year exceeded all former events of this sort in attendance and amount of work covered. More than 2000 registered at the college during the course from more than 100 counties. The Wilbarger girls won over this large number of contestants.

Although failing to win a prize this year, P. D. Chaney, local county agent, won honorable mention for his work in the stock judging contests. This is the third time to make a creditable showing at the state contest.

Wilbarger county was represented by Ruth Jackson of Elliot, Cecil Koontz of East Vernon, Edwin Smith of Vernon, Fay Lemons of Elliot, Mrs. Will Martin of the Southwest Community Club, Mrs. George Beavers of Fargo, County Agents Chaney, Miss Emma Gunter, home demonstration agent.

All local representatives report an enjoyable time. The 2000 contestants were given instructive training by experts in all phases of farm life, and several forms of amusement were furnished by the college, including moving picture shows, and excursions.

Operations In Local Fields Pause For Rains During the Past Week; Several to Spud Soon

Operations in the local fields have been curtailed by the recent rains, but a number of companies are preparing to spud following the recent lull. A recent survey of the field shows that almost as many new wells were started during the past month as has been started during any month of this year. Twenty-one wells were spudded during July, the records of May and March exceed the record of July with 24, and 34 wells started, respectively.

Atlantic Oil Producing company made the only strike of the week, and by picking up a sandy line in No. 5 Zippert at 2360 feet in section 80, block 14. The company is setting casing to make a test. No. 5 made a small producer at the 1200 foot level.

Tidal Oil company placed the well in section 47, block 4, on the pump and it pumped 75 barrels in the first twenty hours. The pump was then shut down for nineteen hours, and after resuming pumping, the well pumped five barrels an hour.

Smith's semi-wildcat in section 35, block 2, is pumping at the rate of 150 barrels daily. It pumped 60 barrels in the first twelve hours on the pump.

Atlantic Oil and Production company announce the intention of starting two new wells, but no locations have been made yet.

TODAY'S RAIN IS THIRD OF INCH

PRECIPITATION IS GENERAL OVER COUNTY, ACCORDING TO REPORTS TO RECORD.

A slow rain of a third of an inch fell here this morning, according to the measurement in the official rain gauge, and reports from over the county are to the effect that the fall was general. Today's precipitation brings the total rainfall for the past week up to more than three inches in Vernon, with much heavier rains reported in several other sections of the county.

Today's rain puts an excellent season in the ground for late feed and cotton crops. Cotton has taken on new growth and fruiting rapidly since last week's rains. Many farmers are saying now that their crops will equal last year's bumper yield.

Much late feed is being planted to overcome the shortage of forage, due to the loss of the early feed crops, and if present favorable conditions continue Wilbarger County ought to have another prosperous year.

VERNON TO BE GIVEN NEW 75 TON ICE PLANT

Middle West Utilities Company Will Make Addition Costing $150,000 to New Plant on Cumberland Street—High Officials Visit Vernon.

An addition costing approximately $150,000 will be made to the ice plant on Cumberland street by the Middle West Utilities Company, according to an announcement made this morning by R. H. Smith, local manager. When completed, the new plant will produce seventy-five tons of ice every twenty-four hours, exceeding the present capacity of the plant by sixty tons.

Plans for the new building include six cold-storage rooms that will be operated for the public, according to the manager. The completed building will cover practically all of the company's property at the corner of Cumberland and Maiden streets.

It is planned to shut down the plant on Cumberland street, and begin construction on the addition about September 15, Mr. Smith states. The present plant has been in operation only a week, and during that time it has been found that its output is totally inadequate to supply the local demand, according to the management. It is planned to send the machinery of this plant to the company's plant at Chillicothe. Upon completion of the new plant, it is expected to take care of the local demand for ice without the aid of the plant on North Main. It is stated.

The Middle West Utilities company evidently believes in Vernon, as the costly addition is planned shortly after the entrance of the company into the local ice and power field. The company purchased the stock of the Vernon Electric and Ice company about a month ago.

Several high officials of the company visited Vernon about two weeks ago, an announced themselves as pleased with the future of the plant here.

Car Hits Parked Truck Injuring Three Occupants

Miss Aileen Arnold, daughter of Mrs. H. S. Arnold, living near Vernon, was painfully injured Friday night when the car in which she, her mother, and brother, Jess, were riding struck a truck near the corner of Mesquite and Wilbarger streets. Miss Arnold received a deep cut on the neck. She was carried to a local hospital for treatment, and was discharged the following day. The other occupants of the car were only slightly bruised.

The truck which the car struck was parked at the curb, and no one was near it. A passing car forced the Arnold car into it. The injuries were caused from a broken windshield.

COURT HOUSE LAWN TO HAVE NEW BAND STAND

Bids are being received for the erection of a new band stand on the lawn of the court house, according to R. M. Fielder, secretary of the local Chamber of Commerce. The new structure is to be eighteen feet square, and it is thought that it will accommodate the band on any occasion.

The old stand has been too small for some time and has become dangerous, according to a recent statement of authorities. The new stand is to be erected by donations and by the Chamber of Commerce.

Local Man's Plan Meets With Favor Over West Texas

R. M. Fielder, secretary of the local chamber of commerce, seems to have started something when he suggested that a West Texas interscholastic league be started, with West Texas Technological College in charge. The suggestion has met with approval in a number of cities, and if the officials of the state interscholastic league put the one year ruling into effect, it is practically certain that the West Texas league will be organized.

A recent announcement from Lubbock states that the athletic officials at the Technological College are willing to organize a new league. Local fans, considering the best interests of the Lions, favor the organization of a new league.

No new developments in regard to one year ruling have been reported from Austin recently. It is not likely that the ruling will be enforced this year, should it be passed.

"The Man in Blue" and "Oh Doctor" Here This Week

Herbert Rawlinson is back in police uniform again and, with Madge Bellamy as his co-star, is duplicating in "The Man in Blue" Universal-Jewell to be shown at the Pictorium, Thursday and Friday, the big hit he made in "Jack O' Clubs."

However, there is the similarity ceases for "The Man in Blue" has nothing else in common with "Jack O' Clubs," unless it be the big fight which is one of the smashing scenes in both pictures. This later starring vehicles is the drama of love and intrigue and heroism surrounding the romance of an Irish policeman walking a beat in the Italian quarter of New York City, and a little Italian flower girl, who feels that the Signor Cop represents everything great in America.

The fact that her uncle thinks

otherwise has little effect on the girl but the machinations of those who work in the dark and against the law of the land of their adoption bring grief to the girl, and to the stalwart arm of the law. In fact the opposition of the uncle is augmented by the knowledge that the big padrone of the quarter's underworld desires the girl for his own wife and he almost gets her.

Reginald Denny, whose work in "Sporting Youth," "The Reckless Age," "The Aynsman Brute" and other Universal successes has established him on a high plane, in the opinion of the motion picture fans, stars in "Oh, Doctor!" the Universal now showing for the last time at the Pictorium.

Screen version of The Saturday Evening Post serial of the same name written by Harry Leon Wilson "Oh, Doctor!" is a delightful combination of comedy, humor, satire and romance, telling the story of a hypochondriac, who finally, because of his love for his beautiful nurse, becomes transformed into a young man of such decided action that the hazards he engages in become a source of consternation to those who have his interest at heart. Denny takes the part of the young hypochondriac, Rufus Billups, Jr., who worries about the state of his health to the exclusion of every other interest of life.

The nurse is played by Mary Astor, and others who are in the cast are Ours Harlan, William Mong, Tom Ricketts, Lucille Ward, Mike Donlin, Clarence Geldert, Blanche Payson, George Kuwa, Martha Mattox and Helen Lynch.

Harry Pollard directed Denny in "Sporting Youth" and "The Reckless Age," directed "Oh, Doctor!" in the latter sequence of which Denny is afforded opportunity to participate in some thrilling automobile rides, and wrecks, and also in some spectacular motorcycle stunts.

Constance Here as "Flapper-Vamp" August 10 and 11

Girls are asked to take warning from Constance Talmadge's experiences in her latest First National comedy, "Learning to Love."

Constance, as a flapper-vamp, makes love to all the men she meets and is somewhat surprised when she finds herself with five fiancés and a husband.

"Learning to Love" is Constance's first comedy since she made "Her Night of Romance." It introduces her for the first time as a flapper-vamp, Hollywood's latest screen innovation in type portrayals.

Antonio Moreno is Constance's leading man. Moreno worked in pictures with Constance and Norma Talmadge many times in the days when both famous sisters were at Vitaphone.

Others in the cast are Emily Fitzroy, Johnny Harron, Ray Hallor, Alf Goulding, Wallace MacDonald, Edythe Chapman, Byron Munson and Edgar Norton. Harron, who is a brother of the late Robert Harron, was last seen with Constance in "Dulcy."

"Learning to Love" is a Joseph M. Schenck production to be presented by First National at the Vernon Theater next Monday and Tuesday. Sidney Franklin directed.

PASTORS HONOR BRYAN MEMORY

COMMONER'S LIFE IS SUBJECT OF SERMONS BY LOCAL MINISTERS.

"If, before the death of the great commoner, I had been asked to name the greatest man in America, I would have immediately replied, 'William Jennings Bryan.'" said Dr. E. L. Moore, speaking from the pulpit of the local Presbyterian church Sunday morning. Several of the ministers of the city honored the memory of the great commoner by centering their services about him.

"It is not often," continued the pastor, "given to one man to fill three realms of human activity in a full and complete way, but it was given to Mr. Bryan. He was a citizen, a statesman, and a Christian."

"He was not a scholar. Unlike his illustrious colleagues, Roosevelt

and Wilson, he knew nothing of higher education, but like his predecessor, Lincoln, he was blessed with a remarkable store of common sense. He studied men rather than books. Ideas and ideals rather than things appealed to him.

He was a close student of the times, the issues, and the men of his day, and from these he formulated his political creed, and moulded his conception of what a true American citizen ought to be. He was a model citizen because he had vision, because he was loyal to righteous principles and American ideals, because he was sincere. He gave to his age a new ideal of citizenship. He has defined patriotism not in the language of war, but in terms of peaceful service. He found the measure of national greatness not in material grandeur, but in the sublime manifestation of spiritual wealth. This he preached from every stump, practiced in every election.

"As a statesman, Mr. Bryan was broad and sagacious in his vision, skilled in the art of government, distinguished in ability, creative in mind. Like Washington and Wilson, he lived in advance of his age."

He was a pioneer in many wise and wholesome issues brought before the people. He was absolutely unafraid to champion any cause he believed to be right.

"He was not always right, he was not always understood."

"As a Christian, his life is a model. The last and crowning act of his great life was a strong defense of the work of God and the principles of faith."

The minister quoted the following from the Bible as best befitting the circumstances of the commoner's death:

"And the King said unto his servants, know ye not that there is a prince and a great man fallen this day in Israel? And I am this day weak, the anointed King."

Rev. C. A. Bickley, pastor of the local Methodist church spoke highly of the great commoner to a large and attentive audience.

"In the death of William Jennings Bryan," he said, "America has lost a prince. For almost a third of a century Bryan has had a wonderful influence in America. He was great as a citizen, statesman, orator and writer, but he towers highest and his life throws its light farthest as a Christian. He has fallen at a time when we seem to greatly need him, but God doeth all things well. He is dead but will continue to speak."

"As a statesman, he always stood for the cause of the common people. He stamped the 1896 Democratic convention with his famous saying, 'You shall not press down upon the brow of labor this crown of thorns. You shall not crucify mankind upon the cross of gold.'"

"Mr. Bryan was an apostle of peace. He felt that war was against the teaching of the Prince of Peace. He advocated world disarmament. In 1913 he drafted a form of peace treaty between the United States and foreign nations, by which all disputes were to be submitted to an impartial investigating commission for a year before hostilities could begin. Thirty foreign nations representing three-fourths of the population of the earth became signatories to the document."

"He was an ardent prohibitionist. While in the president's cabinet he startled Washington by refusing to serve anything while entertaining stronger than grape juice. Mr. Shepherd, who drafted the Eighteenth Amendment, gave to Mr. Bryan, more than any other one person, credit for its passage."

"His defense of the Bible is too well known for me to do more than refresh your memories. He was fearless in his fight on Modernism and Darwinian evolution. He felt that the perpetuity of our nation depended upon Christianity and that the life of Christianity rested upon the Bible. He thrilled the world by saying that he was more interested in 'Rock of Ages' than in the age of rocks."

The pastor then compared his life to that of many great men of the Bible and the modern world.

"Like Abraham he was a friend of God," the speaker continued. "Like Enoch, he walked with God. Like Elijah, he challenged to combat the enemies of Christianity. Like John he was an apostle of love, and like Paul, he fought bravely the battles of the right till the last and could say, 'I have fought a good fight, I have kept the faith,' and was ready to receive the crown of righteousness."

"He is gone. May his great life as a Christian continue to speak to the world. I would say with one on another occasion: 'I stood on a faraway shore and saw a stately column of Parian Marble rise until it touched the skies. In rapture and admiration I beheld it. Then suddenly it was rudely broken in twain, and the heart of the dreamer was sad.' But I looked again, and I saw the clouds had lowered and obscured the upper portion, and the column was unbroken still. It is so with the commoner's life. It is not broken. Death has only veiled its loftier heights."

EVIDENCES OF LEGISLATIVE HASTE.

Two instances have recently come to light where the necessity for haste in passing legislation, due to the limit of sixty days placed on the regular session of the Legislature by the constitution, or rather limiting the period of the 85 a day compensation, has cost rather dearly. One was the discovery that two elections must be held on successive days to act on constitutional amendments. Of course, we know it was not the intention to have two elections on successive days, but the error crept in and the Attorney General has no way of authorizing a change.

Another oversight made by the solons in their haste to transact their business within the sixty-day regular session was an error in the water conservation act which requires a permit from the State Board of Water Engineers before any kind of a tank for impounding storm water can be constructed. There was a discrepancy between the caption and the remainder of the bill, which the Attorney General ruled required permit to construct any size tank.

Of course, the Legislature had no intention of requiring a permit for a farmer to build a dam across a ravine on his farm, and if the members had been given ample time to study the bill no such provision would have been allowed to pass, just as proper consideration would have eliminated the provision of two elections on two successive days when one election was sufficient.

The wonder is not that so many bills are bungled. The real wonder is that so few errors are made. It is impossible for legislators to consider in detail the mass of legislation submitted during sixty days. It is a physical impossibility and we will continue to have bungled laws until we give legislators decent pay and allow them sufficient time to transact their business in an orderly manner.

Every lawmaker who does to Austin does so at a financial sacrifice, if he is honest, and most of them are honest, and no one can blame him for rushing through with the business as soon as possible in order that he can get back home to look after his own interests. What we ought to do is to amend the constitution so as to provide a respectable annual salary for legislators and do away with the limits on the length of regular sessions. This would give ample time for thorough consideration of legislation. The error in the law providing for the extra election this year will cost the taxpayers enough extra money to go a long way toward paying decent compensation to legislators. All these errors, most of which are due to haste in passing laws, cost the taxpayers, and if the people can ever get the idea that these blunders cost them money it ought not to be difficult to get a change in the constitution.

SHOOTING PROHIBITION INTO EFFECT.

The other day an alleged bootlegger was slain by prohibition enforcement officers in New Jersey. The newspaper accounts of the incident say that two enforcement officers came down from Washington to Havre De Grace, that being the name of the town where the tragedy occurred, put up at a hotel and told the suspected man that they wanted to buy some liquor. He complied with their request, delivered the liquor, received his pay and then the officers disclosed their identity. The man asked and received permission to telephone his wife and then made a dash for freedom.

The officers gave chase, the newspaper account runs, and fired a number of shots in a crowded street of the business district, finally bringing him down mortally wounded. The officer who is alleged to have fired the fatal shot was arrested and held on a charge of murder. Most good citizens will applaud any proper effort to enforce the probhibition laws, but it would be difficult for any straight-thinking person to excuse the slaying of this man, if the newspaper accounts of the affair are even approximately correct. In the first place the method selected to apprehend the man in the act of selling liquor was questionable. It is hard to excuse officers who suggest a violation of the law in order to make an arrest. In the next place there was no justification for shooting down a man under such circumstances. He had committed no crime which would warrant an officer in taking his life.

Such practices will not strengthen sentiment for enforcement of the prohibition laws and in the long run enforcement must depend upon public sentiment, quite as much as the vigilance of officers. In fact, if prohibition ever becomes an actuality it must come through public sentiment, and it is going to be hard to crystallize public sentiment by shooting down suspects or as long as it is possible for doctors and druggists to set the law at naught by dispensing prescription liquor which in reality is the great majority of cases is for beverage purposes.

Away From The Crowds

America is still undiscovered, still waiting to be discovered—by you!

Away from the paved highways, deep in the hidden solitudes—are shady groves fragrant with the scent of flowers—sun-drenched valleys—lazy streams—or hurrying brooks as befit your mood. Waiting to please you with their untouched charms.

Take your Ford and venture forth into the delights of the unknown. Leave the beaten path to others. Go where you will—whether the road is paved or not.

It is the car of the true adventurer; the car that no going—be it sand, dirt or rocky road—can halt; the car that will take you safely, certainly and happily to where nature hides her true loveliness.

Dandruff is a germ disease and known as a scaly form of Tetter or Eczema. This microbe lives on the oily substance of the skin and robs the hair of its proper nourishment, causing it to fall out and the head to become bald. Get rid of dandruff before it is too late. Wash the scalp well with hot water and soap, dry with a soft towel and apply Hooper's Tetter-Rem (Don't Scratch), rubbing it in well. Then steam the head with hot towels. "THE SHOPPING CENTER OF VERNON"

DENTON MEETS GUNDY TONIGHT

CLIFF CASTLEBERRY TAKES ON YOUNG MURDOCK IN SEMI-FINAL BOUTS.

Nick Gundy of Oklahoma City and Jack Denton of Tahoka are the two lads who will sling the padded mitts in the ten-round feature event at the Vernon open air arena at the corner of Texas and Mesquite streets tonight. Both boxers have fought here before, and each has won the favor of local fans.

Gundy stepped ten exceedingly fast rounds with Wildcat Monte here about two months ago, losing the referee's decision by a shade. In the ten rounds, Denton showed that he was a glutton for punishment and a spendthrift at handing it out. He displayed a willingness to mix it that held the fans in his favor despite the decision which went against him.

Denton's fight with Kid Rich is not yet off the tongues of fans. That fight was indicative of Denton's ability. When a boxer can stand up to one who ought to weigh him as much as Rich does Denton, it cannot be doubted that he would be a good mixer when fighting one nearer his size.

Although Denton used running tactics in his bout with Rich, it is not likely that he will employ the same method in his bout tonight, as he matched with a boxer near his weight. The Tahoka lad has a reputation for mixing it.

Young Murdock of Wichita Falls stands a good chance of getting the small end of a decision in a six-round semi-final with Cliff Castleberry, local leather pusher. Although Castleberry has not donned the mitts for several weeks, he reports that he is in good condition, and if he is, the Wichita Falls boxer is likely to go down as did one of his fellow citizens of the coyote city last week.

At last fans are given the assurance that Rabbit Nye will fight again. The local favorite emphatically announces that he will enter the ring again tonight. His opponent has not been announced yet.

Other good preliminaries are promised by the local promoter.

Chevrolet Repair Service

Our shop is completely equipped with the standard equipment for Chevrolet service. You will find the same machinery and tools for testing the accuracy of any repair job that you will find in the factory. The main bearings, timing gears, connecting rod bearings and all parts are tested by the same machinery and put under the same rigid test as a new motor before it leaves the factory. Our standard equipment gives us a machine and a tool for every job which eliminates the possibility of guess as to its accuracy.

EXPERT MECHANICS

Two of our shop men leave for the factory to study Chevrolet construction and service.

We are anxious to give Chevrolet owners the proper service and by installing standard machinery and sending two of our mechanics to the factory enables us to give our customers the same standard of efficiency that they would get were they to take their Chevrolet to the factory for the repair.

FLAT RATE SERVICE CHARGE

The proper training of our mechanics and the installation of standard equipment also enables us to reduce the cost of repair service for our customers. Each job is done on a flat rate charge. You know before the work is done, just what it will cost you. No lost time charged on your bill.

We ask that you visit our service shop and allow us the opportunity to show you this modern machinery and explain the many advantages over the old time hammer, chisel and guess work methods. If you are driving a Chevrolet see our equipment before you allow a chisel or hammer put on your car.

Hull and White Will Not Fight in Vernon Soon

All hopes of a bout in the near future between Clyde Hull and Tommy White must be called off, according to W. O. Powell, local promoter. Hull failed to answer messages, and White returned to Mexico following his work-out with Duke Trammell at Wichita Falls Friday night. White announced his intention of returning to this section in a month, and the local promoter expresses the hope that he may match Hull with the little boxer at that time.

A number of local fans attended the bout at Wichita Falls Friday

Married in April Couple Announce Wedding Sunday

Melton Archer and Miss Nell Herald surprised their friends by announcing their marriage Sunday, which occurred April 27 at Childress. Rev. Garland Shell, pastor of the Childress Presbyterian church, officiated. Soon after the announcement they left for a trip that included Colorado Springs, Denver, Boulder and other points in Colorado. Only their mothers had been informed of the marriage, and they guarded the secret closely.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Herald, residents of Vernon for several years. She is a graduate of the local high school and taught a year after her graduation. She is prominent in Sunday school work in the Presbyterian church.

Mr. Archer is a son of Mrs. Mary Archer, living near Odell. The family are prominent in the north part of the county, having lived there for years. The young man was born in this county. For the past three years he has had a position with F. L. Reed Paint Shop. They will make their home in Vernon.

HONOREES AT SHOWER AND FORTY-TWO PARTY

Mrs. G. W. Backus entertained with a forty-two party and shower Friday afternoon, complimenting her friends, Mrs. John A. Stinson of Lamar, Colorado, and Miss Lora Long of Nashville, Tenn. Mrs. Stinson is spending the summer here. Miss Long will leave soon for Nashville, where she recently graduated from the Searritt Bible Training School and will take up work at the Wesley House, in that city. Several games of forty-two were played and then Mrs. L. D. Terrell in a gracious little presentation speech, closing with a clever little rhyme, showered the surprised Miss Long with over two dozen beautiful handkerchiefs. A beautiful handkerchief as a remembrance gift was presented to Mrs. Stinson by the hostess. An attractive salad course was served to the following:

Mesdames John Doan, R. S. McConihe, T. M. Ferguson, B. J. Parker, T. J. Youngblood, L. D. Terrell, George W. Backus, Jr., J. A. Luckey, J. A. Harrington, J. H. E. Young, J. J. McLaughlin, J. N. Johnson, E. F. Piper, Y. H. Babasin, R. E. Townsend and the honorees, Miss Long and Mrs. Stinson.

Church of Christ Revival Drawing Enormous Crowds

Large crowds are attending the revival meeting being held by the Church of Christ, and success is attending the efforts of the evangelist. Five candidates for baptism have been received. The crowds are filling the tabernacle each night at the corner of Marshall and Deaf Smith streets.

Elder W. D. Bills of San Antonio, who is conducting the services, is still the evangelist that he was on the occasions of his other two visits here, according to members of the local church who have heard him each time. Many have expressed their pleasure at the way in which he is conducting the meeting this year.

Ira Y. Rice of Norman, Okla., is getting the local choir in shape, and is furnishing a very good musical service.

The meeting is expected to continue until August 10.

BAPTIST SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS HOLDS BANQUET

A mock trial in which T. A. Key was convicted of having become rich and not attending Sunday school was the amusement feature of the banquet of Buckner's Men's Bible Class held at Allingham Park Friday night. Forty-three men attended the banquet.

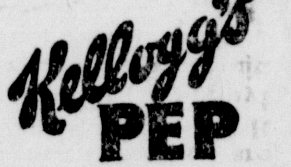

Instructive addresses by Dr. E. F. Lyon, W. N. Stokes and H. D. Hoekersmith, and a reading by Mrs. A. T. Underwood constituted the more serious part of the program. W. T. Lofland served as toastmaster.

Myrtle Mitchell of Walters, Okla., who has been visiting relatives in Vernon during the past few weeks, returned to her home Sunday.
